

Special Fall Workshop Series Tap Dancing for Theater

Everyone loves a musical with lots of tap dancing, but many actors and actresses can't audition because they have no tap experience. This beginning tap class is designed to teach the basic steps and many common intermediate steps, arming the students with a sufficient tap foundation to perform in musical theater. Although the class is designed for theater actors, anyone with a desire to learn to tap can enroll. And now is the time! - because coming this spring to Kelsey Theatre is Thoroughly Modern Millie and Singing In The Rain, and both are in need of tap dancing actors. Tap shoes are required (information on tap shoes will be sent to you before the first class).

Tuesdays 6:00pm - 7:00pm Sept. 25-Nov. 27, 2007 10 Classes - cost $100

Special Fall Workshop Series Tap Dancing for Theater

Instructor: Jane Coult

Jane has studied dance for 30 years, starting when she was 2 $\frac{1}{2}$. Returning to dance school as an adult, she started teaching pointe and tap dance to both children and adults at area dance schools. In 1999, she returned to the theater after an absence of over 15 years to tap dance in Anything Goes at the Washington Crossing Open Air Theatre (OAT) and tap danced again that winter in *42*nd Street at Kelsey Theatre. She then moved on to choreographing productions for the OAT and Kelsey Theatre and has choreographed numerous shows over the ensuing years at both theaters and in Northeast Philadelphia. Jane taught the tap class for both sessions of Tomato Patch, the summer theater camp at Kelsey Theatre. She has a BA degree in Psychology from Thomas Edison State College.
